Investors are hoodwinked by big financial firm conspirators into making bad investments.

Blurb:

It's time to take control of your money!

Have you bought into Wall Street's marketing propaganda? Is your financial planner's bias limiting your wealth? Are you paying fees on money that doesn't even belong to you?

Market volatility isn't going away. Higher tax rates are coming no matter what politicians say. It's time to break away from the status quo of outdated financial advice. Build real wealth and protect your family's assets against future tax hikes. Don't be blinded by shiny Wall Street promises! Learn financial tips the big firms don't want you to know from an expert with over 25 years of insider experience.

About the author:
